

Here With You

Faderhead

Life moves pretty fast
You could miss it

Waiting for a sense of peace
Waiting for a quiet little place for me
Waiting for a minute in my soul
Waiting for the world to hide
Waiting for my heart to show and rise
Waiting for the end of self-control

But sometimes the chaos leaves me

When I'm here with you
Sometimes the chaos leaves me

Every day I wake to fight again
Every day I fight those angry men
Every day I lose a little part of me
Every day I change my masterplan
Every day I hate what I became
Every day I'm losing blamelessly
