

I Still Miss You

Fades Away

Standing in the rain,
Begging you to stay.
Flashback to the memories a million miles away,
Everything was perfect,
It was only you and me,
You threw it all away and left me here with nothing.

No matter how hard I try,
I can't seem to get your picture out of my mind.
From time to time, I know I still miss you.

Another sleepless night,
Trying to find some peace,
But when I close my eyes, my eyelids paint the scene,
Of that dreadful night,
When you said you had to leave.
You took that blood stained knife and twisted it inside me.

No matter how hard I try,
I can't seem to get your picture out of my mind.
From time to time, I know, I still miss you.

You are the most beautiful mistake I ever made.
Out of my head, I want this memory dead.
You are the most beautiful mistake I ever made.
Out of my head, I want this memory dead.

You are the most beautiful mistake I ever made.

No matter how hard I try,
I can't seem to get your picture out of my mind.
From time to time, I know, I still miss you.
I still miss you.
I want your memory dead.
