

Lonely Rooms

Fair Warning

These memories, they still come back sometimes
Keeping me awake late at night
A restless soul, that's what I'm right now
Trying to find the way back to the light

So many times I spent the nights alone
Wishing you were here right by my side
The words to say just won't come to my mouth
And I can't help you're thinking that's my pride

Will it get any better
Will the feeling last for the rest of my days?

Here I am - all on my own in these lonely rooms
Here I am - waiting for a message from you
And I wait - waiting for a message that never comes
'Cause the last chance that we had - we didn't take it

Lost summer nights that I wish to forget
On my own now I have to survive
And though I know you won't come back some day
It's these foolish thoughts that keep my heart alive

Will it get any better
Will this feeling last for the rest of my days?

Here I am - all on my own in these lonely rooms
Here I am - waiting for a message from you
And I wait - waiting for a message that never comes
'Cause the last chance that we had - we didn't take it
