

White Lies

Fake Problems

Better raise a glass tonight,
I'm gonna bring it back to life
After such an awful day,
We deserve something great

Let the soft sound echo through Every single living room
After such a boring year,
We deserve something new.

But oh my, my mind is feeding me white lies
And I'm believing that I
am better this way

But oh hey, my resolutions all fell away
I guess I'm gonna have to call it a day
Tell myself it's okay

Far beyond these feelings go,
Miles past the old dirt road,
Lay my worn out memories
I finally hear what they're telling me

Its saying oh my, my mind is feeding me white lies
And I'm believing that I
am better this way

But oh hey, my resolutions all fell away
I guess I'm gonna have to call it a day
Tell myself it's okay

And if you let go now
You'll never know
And if you take of now
Where will you go?

And I'm believing that I
am better this way

But oh hey, my resolutions all fell away
I guess I'm gonna have to call it a day
Tell myself it's okay

I'll call it a day,
Tell myself it's okay
