Broken Heart (Ghosts of Seaside)

Falling Up

In this moment synchronized inside, words that paint a legacy of life

A different picture will unfold, a healing finds it's way through

Sifted times I take another breath, with an ambience of nothing left

So heal my heart, rain down your love, these waters bring me back to life

Father, healer, deliver me from broken love Stay here, closer, let me hear your voice of love

There's a healing calling from the wind, there's a healer waiting to begin

In timeless places, traced and faceless, will I learn to let go ?

Take me to the heights where love controls,

Far away from home but feels so close

This empty heart of mine will fall inside and bring me back to life

Father, healer, deliver me from broken love Stay here, closer, let me hear your voice of love

You can hold, you can mend You can heal, you can break I hold cause something etched this way

Father, healer, deliver me from broken love Stay here, closer, let me hear your voice of love Savior, Redeemer, bring me to this place of peace Jesus, guardian, my broken heart is so in need
