

Feel, feel the wounds
Hold my hands cradling all the souls
And wait, wait for peace
As my love makes its way shattering

My heart, it hurts
'Cause it never catches its breath
I'm still staying when I should have left
Come to where the waters meet the shore
I'll be there
And I will stay, leaving you

(Stay) Listen to
All my dreams, love that lasts, pain that heals
And take, take your time
But move so fast, 'cause hearts move on
And this is real

This time it means something
Dreams will fall, love will spill
