

Magician Reversed

Falling Up

The King has made a plan
He was playing with her hair
He couldn't tell if what he felt was violence speaking out

The bright lit discoveratory was absently loud
It made her squirm, she said-
"War, I never knew your hands could move so quick
Your golden arrows sing
Your golden arrows sing
I'll format your lips."

Don't ever speak of stars
If you formed from different parts
Cause you know I lied there drunk that night
With the armour at my side

I left it for several seconds
But it's just enough to tear my spine, I said-
"War, I never knew your hands could move so quick
Your golden arrows sing
Your golden arrows sing
I'll format your lips."

Still you watch the golden lines...
Still you watch the golden lines...
Still you watch the golden lines...
Still you watch the golden lines...
Still you watch the golden lines...
Still you watch the golden lines...

War, I never knew your hands could move so quick
Your golden arrows sing
Your golden arrows sing
