

I Lay My Head

Fallulah

I see them run when you throw them a bone
I see them run for you
I can't believe that not so long ago you had me running too

I lay my head where your heart used to be
I keep the left side for you when I sleep
I miss the heat and the weight of a man
But I'm too good to fall back in your hands

Uh uh uh uh uh u huh

I held my breath waiting for a fat chance
The day you'd come around
I held it till I was blue in my head
A blues was all I found

I lay my head where your heart used to be
Want to forget what your hands used to do to me
I'm feeling lonely but what can you do
It's only when it's dark I'm thinking of you

Uh uh uh uh uh u huh

I lay my head where your heart used to be
I keep the left side for you when I sleep
I miss the heat and the weight of a man
But I'm too good to fall back in your hands

I lay my head where your heart used to be
Want to forget what your hands used to do to me
I'm feeling lonely but what can you do
It's only when it's dark I'm thinking of you

Uh uh uh uh uh u huh
