

Snowmageddon

Famous Last Words

Why do we die alone?

If I died in your arms tomorrow
Would you know what I lived for today?
The end of time is taking over
As the memory fades away

The voices scream inside my head, driving me insane
Their haunted whispers say I'll soon be dead
The endless crushing pain
The rush, it's tough, I've had enough, I simply can not stay
I can't end my life at home
I just need to run away, I need to die alone

Go!

The light is fading, yet getting brighter
The flesh is cold now but I'm feeling warmer
The end has come but now I feel stronger
The final breath, it was painful, but now it is over!

The voices scream inside my head, driving me insane
Their haunted whispers say I'll soon be dead
The endless crushing pain
The rush, it's tough, I've had enough, I simply can not stay
I can't end my life at home
I just need to run away, I need to die alone

Bleed!

My time it is fading to nothing
And I need to walk away from this Home where I've been for so long

Why do we die alone?
I need to do this on my own!
I need to leave this home!
Until my body turns to stone!
I need to die alone!
