

Falling Back Down

Far Too Jones

So you think that you might could save me
So you think that you'd like to try
What makes you think you're safe with me
Well, it's the same thing over and over again
I can't get out and I can't get in
I won't wait one more day

All I wanted to be
Was everything you thought you were
And I'm always falling back down

So maybe I held you up too high
Maybe I held you down too long
Just one of my many moves made wrong
Well sit down, shut up, I ain't through
It must be easy for a girl like you
To be jaded and so removed

All I wanted to be
Was everything you thought you were
And I'm always falling back down

I don't really see
Just how this is so amusing to you
I guess I was born to be
Some kind of plastic hero

I wanted to be
Everything you thought you were
And I'm always falling..
Hated to see
Your head cradled in your hands
Did you know I was falling back down?

I'm falling back down
I'm falling back down
I'm falling back down
It could have been you
