

September Brought The Fall

Farewell

Left a post-it note on her wall, but september, yeah, brought t he fall, and with every cold brath, She'll be catching her death before long - so contemptible at t he card table - watching her cut the lines I'm so cynical - fucking miserable - deconstruct by design - sh e was only a lonely accomplice It was all for the best in the end, but I'd die to make her rea lize I'm only trying to get through It's long overdue - hope you're happy now - distance won't allo w me to build bridges to you It's kinda funny how you're all over town like it's the right t hing to do - it's despicable how this Criminal gets away with the prize - she's so pitiful - often cr itical - watching others scrape by Better watch out if you fall in love with a liar, cause boy she 'll tear you apart, she'll blow out The spark in your eye - better watch out if you fall victim to desire, cause boy she'll tap Out your heart, and leave you with nothing inside
