

I Live Just To Love You

Faron Young

Can't you tell by the look in these eyes of mine
Don't you feel a sweet warmth when your hand touches mine
And when you kiss my lips you can find it there too So if there's any doubt then it's time you find out I live just to love you

Just to know that you're near makes my life seem so sweet Things that once were just dreams are now so complete
You took grey skies and you painted them blue
And I want you for ever so don't leave me never cause I live ju st to love you

Yes I live to love you and there's nobody who could ever ever t ake the place of you And it's so good to know that you love me too So as long as I live I'll give all I can give cause I live just
to love you
