

I Made A Fool Of Myself

Faron Young

I made a fool of myself last night
Now someone new is holdin' her tight
But there's no one, no one
To blame but myself that you left and I'm alone.

In anger eyes full words of shame
Now all my lovin' you is in vain
But there's no one, no one
To blame nut myself that you left and I'm alone.

We were out on the town havin' a ball
So you looked at someone else and that's what started it all
Oh, jealousy caused me, my blue
I should have known that you'd never be untrue.

But there's no one, no one
To blame but myself that you left and I'm alone.

We were out on the town havin' a ball
So you looked at someone else and that's what started it all
Oh, jealousy caused me, my blue
I should have known that you'd never be untrue.

But there's no one, no one
To blame but myself that you left and I'm alone.

And I'm alone...
