

Worried Mind

Faron Young

You promised me love that would never die
That promise you've made was only a lie
Now after you're gone all alone and I
For all that I've got is a worried mind.

And when I was down, you've just let me there
I needed you so but you didn't care
You found the new love and home so fine
But all that I got is a worried mind.

I gave you a ring, I gave you a home
You promised me that you never would wrong
I bought you fine clothes and I bought you wine
But all that you gave was a worried mind...
