

Talk About Nothing

Farrah

We used to talk about the way we feel
Now I don't feel as though we're really talking.
I used to trust in you my one ideal, now there's no subject to the conversation.
We're walking, sleep talking, feelings trapped inside.
Our defence in silence.
How can I get through to you?
I don't wanna talk about nothing.
I'm seeing red and you're feeling blue, and I don't wanna talk
about nothing.
Do you really wanna talk about something?
I don't like fighting cos you always win, I'm always trying to avoid the issue.
You always shut me out and then you let me in, sometime we clic k and other times I miss you.
We hang out with our friends, it's easier that way.
When we're left on our own, we've got nothing left to say.
How can I get through to you?
I don't wanna talk about nothing.
I'm seeing red and you're feeling blue, and I don't wanna talk
about nothing.
How can I get through to you?
I don't wanna talk about nothing.
Do you remember you used to tell me everything, now I don't kno w what you're thinking.
Talk to me please.
Talk to me please.
How can I get through to you?
I don't wanna talk about nothing.
I'm seeing red and you're feeling blue, and I don't wanna talk
about nothing.
How can I get through to you?
I don't wanna talk about nothing, I don't wanna talk about noth ing.
Do you really wanna talk about something?
