

Jealousy

Fast Food Orchestra

Because of jealousy you can't believe it's true
Because of jelaousy you loose a girl of you
Because of jealousy you made a crazy things
Because of jealousy now you' ve got no anything

She told you everyday that you're only one
And the words she said meant she's got no anyone
But you were worse than spy that's why she left your home
Let your have your cry out, (its) your fault you stay alone

Uyayayaya jealousy, jealousy, jealousy

Your love was full of fear and your eyes was blind
But only fragrence here is all she has left behind
So now you're lonely guy your right hand's your girlfriend
No time to wonder why, swing up with your big band
