

Orphan Gypsy

Fates Warning

Young warrior to the drunken galley slave,
Running with the wind running wayward knave.
I'm a vagabond with a maelstrom mind
My blood has left me behind.

So go away leave me alone,
If you look in my eyes you see only stone.
I won't let you in I can look you out,
In your world, your fallacy, I don't want desolate

Isle of debris.
Sister Superior, witch is on her winged flight.
Nightmare dream children's scream,
Echo Orphanage Hall Tonight.

I'm a misconception never had affection
I don't ever know my name.
Just as well who would know locked in
The closet all day, but I like it here

They leave me alone.
I the sheep, she is the wolfe, I must run
Run to the end of the world.
Orphan Gypsy all I'll ever be,

Magic for emotion I am free.
Orphan Gypsy all I want to be
Lift your chains from me.
No place to call home, sever my roots from

The earth, eternal exile from day one.
In this lease of life I entered as one
In the end I leave as one.
Not a single word of guile is heard

Come the clouds before the rain.
You've entered my sanctum blasphemed
And caused me pain.
You're a figment of my imagination

I am stone now you know I gave my Soul to read your mind.
