An Expression Of Good Taste

Favez

So the years went by and it's all we had

Caught a suntan sky and a sad parade

You can shake your head but it's all we had

If you're sorry now will it all come down

If I breathe too hard will it all go wrong

Can you come around should we drag you down

If the smell's too strong it's the fear you brought in

On the window pain there's a cross

That I made there's a cross that I made so the years went by

And it's all we had 'till we all grew old and the lights were s o low

They could see it all so they chose how far

And we closed our eyes 'cause it's all we had on the window pan e

There's a cross that we all made and it looks the same as the w hores

And the strain that we felt when you came
