Far Away

Baby, I'm not what I used to be Nowhere, nowhere near the other me Broken dreams, losing my identity Slowly, breaking every part of me

I gave up my whole life for you Thought I knew you In my heart I tried to find the truth in your lies Oh, why did I let you get your way with me? And now I see

You're good from far away But you're far from good for me Here's to better days When you're miles away You're good from far away

I got to forget you I wanna forget you I need to forget you Forget to forget you Ooooa nanana, ooooa nanana

We are nothing like we used to be So far, far from good you are to me My mistake, I thought you really cared for me I should have known you'd never do the same for me

When I gave up my whole life for you Thought I knew you In my heart I tried to find the truth in your lies Oh, why did I let you get your way with me? And now I see

You're good from far away But you're far from good for me Here's to better days When you're miles away You're good from far away

I got to forget you I wanna forget you I need to forget you Forget to forget you Ooooa nanana, ooooa nanana

I got to forget you I wanna forget you I need to forget you Forget to forget you Ooooa nanana, ooooa nanana

You're good from far away But you're far from good to me Here's to better days When you're miles away You're good from far away

Faydee

But you're far from good for me Here's to better days When you're miles away You're good from far away

I got to forget you I wanna forget you I need to forget you Forget to forget you Ooooa nanana, ooooa nanana

I got to forget you I wanna forget you I need to forget you Forget to forget you Oocoa nanana, occoa nanana...
