You waste away A spinning cage Mass bided by the sun

You spend your day Stuck in a race And life has just begun

A paradise is in eclipse And lives are lost And for distress

The wage of sin is money spent Your life a debt full of regret

We are lost in the maze Falling Falling...

And now your life Amounts to nothing A fortune has a price

Cause in the end All humans die A debt your in the hide

A paradise is in eclipse And lives are lost And for distress

The wage of sin is memory spent Your life a debt full of regret

We are lost in the maze Falling Falling....

Falling away again...

(Get! Up!)

Lost in the maze Falling Falling...

Falling away again...
