

My Strength My Weakness

Fear My Thoughts

The feeling of you seems like a whole in my system
The grinding pressure of an unspoken word sets a dark sun in my soul
I drown in your eyes, your voice seems like music to me you light up the darkest night, inspiring thoughts lie within you your strength- my weakness your power- my addiction easily you could break me easily you throw me down (you hold my heart in your bare hands) you- my strength, my weakness if you'd know what you mean to me. Would you use it against me?
Your trust and your knowledge- could break me down Your love and your compassion- can strengthen me Love can strengthen me
