

Dream Of You

Fearless Vampire Killers

I had a dream of you,
A fallen angel lost enough to say goodbye.
Said you were looking for the broken seams,
The strands of memories torn apart and cast aside.
The ones that die alone.

I had a dream,
Its strange to think that all these years have passed away,
But I'm,
Seeing everything with clearer eyes.
I'm leaving behind the days that left me dead inside.
The ones that are all but bleeding out.

Be careful they say,
You must be careful you see.
'Cause if you live in a dream,
You'll forget how to scream.
You best keep living they say,
Best grab hold of they day.
But when tomorrows as grey,
All the yesterdays slip away.

I'm falling in love with the taste of decay.
I'm falling in love with the hope of dismay.
I think I'm falling in love with the picture of yesterday...

Feel those thoughts calling out to you.
(What would you do if you could lose the only bruise on your heart)
Feel those dreams holding on right through.
(What would you do if you could stay away and never come home)

You had me all alone,
I bow my head and hear you whisper in my ear those simple worlds.
(Keep fighting, keep fighting)
In my hollow bones,
Your memory forms the marrow of my sweet venere.
It holds me down as lightning strikes.

Be careful they say,
You must be careful you see.
'Cause if you live in a dream,
You'll forget how to scream.
You best keep living they say,
Best grab hold of they day.
And don't you ever ever let it slip away.
(Don't ever let it slip away)

Feel those thoughts calling out to you.
(What would you do if you could lose the only bruise on your heart)
Feel those dreams holding on right through.
(What would you do if you could stay away and never come home)

[Instrumental]

Feel those thoughts calling out to you.
(What would you do if you could lose the only bruise on your heart)
Feel those dreams holding on right through.

(What would you do if you could stay away and never come home)

What would you do,
What would you do?
I had a dream,
I had a dream of you.
