

Unbreakable Hearts

Fearless Vampire Killers

A murmur of war burdens the afternoon air
The presence of evil and a wandering fire
Messages from the line
Say it's almost time out to the east
The light of the sunburst once
Prevalent and glittering
Has suddenly all but ceased
Forgetting the moment
I find my mind drift away
Recalling an evening of euphoric disgrace
With unbreakable hearts we make our stand blinded
With unbreakable hearts
We take back what was lost
With unbreakable hearts we fight
And surrender redemption
At the ends of the earth
We brawl with unbreakable hearts
With unbreakable hearts
The armour advances rolling through the ruined squares
The sun's violent rays beating down
Awakening our rage and then fire rains
Falling on dusty streets long abandoned
Little our enemy understands that we won't go easy no
Forgetting the moment
I find my mind drift away
Recalling an evening of euphoric disgrace
With unbreakable hearts
We make our stand blinded
With unbreakable hearts
We take back what was lost
With unbreakable hearts
We fight and surrender redemption
At the ends of the earth
A mystical light glows in west
But we're indisposed no time to look round
You think demons decapitate themselves
No, no, no lightning flares
With unbreakable hearts
We make our stand blinded
With unbreakable hearts
We take back what was lost
With unbreakable hearts
We fight and surrender our redemption
At the ends of the earth
At the ends of the earth we brawl
With unbreakable hearts
With unbreakable hearts