Without Regret

Feeling Left Out

She scrunches her toes
Under the covers so no one knows

Rosey red cheeks dissolved her tears

I know what it takes to live without regret You'll never know what it means to be her friend

Phone calls filled with lies If you only knew how she sees you In her eyes

Honestly you don't deserve her

I know what it takes to live without regret you'll never know what it means to be her friend

There's something about a girl In her underwear that can make you change your mind

I know what it takes to live without regret you'll never know what it means to be her friend