She Deals In Crosses

To you it seemed so simple Yours was just another life When you left school You became a mother and a wife Hey sister Hey sister Hey sister What are you doing with yourself

I believe life's preordained As such we haven't got a say And noone dies for nothing Not in my street anyway Hey sister Hey sister Hey sister What are you doing with your life