

She Lives By The Castle

Felt

How could you be so cold with me when I have been so warm with you just one touch please in the morning light when the sun don't come through your window

I still want to be warm You won't show yourself to me
she lives by the castle

Why do you play those games with me you foolishly thought I would not join in just your luck I'm a losing man 'cause any game that I play I never win

You won't throw yourself at me
she lives by the castle
and she's noble as a queen

I'm not impressed by the life you lead your innocence will surely make you fail it's a miracle you're not cynical your mind is like a vacant lot that's for sale

I don't know what you need
and she's noble as a queen
