

Your Bones

Fences

She said "please take me home."
'Cause I can't be here anymore.
I need somewhere to be alone,
With her skin, wraps your bones.

Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.

I have something to tell you, love.
You're no longer my own true one.
And loving you's become a chore.
And someone else is at my door.

Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.

Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.
Please don't say.
