

Common Country Man

Ferlin Husky

(There'll be lots of Sunday singing there'll be lots of happy suppers)

If you can love a common country man

The only silk you'll touch will be the ribbons in your hair

But I'll make it up in every way I can

As long as there's a breath in me you'll have someone who cares

If you can love a common country man

There'll be lots of Sunday singing there'll be lots of happy suppers

As long as I've got two hard working hands

We'll be proud of all our children they'll be proud of mom and dad

If you can love a common country man

I know I'll never make enough to drive a big fine car

With only that old stripped out bottom land

But when it comes to wealthy love we'll have the richest hearts

If you can love a common country man

There'll be lots of Sunday singing...

There'll be lots of Sunday singing...
