From Summer To Winter

Ferlin Husky

My friends they told me you change like the weather From one love to another you would go But when I first met you your love was like the summer Love I never dreamed of turning cold But then the autumn leaves started falling from the trees In your heart the season grew colder The wind began to blow and the clouds began to snow When your love turned from summer to winter

As the sunlight touches the face of a flower that's how soft yo ur lips were to mine Your love to me was just like the summer a sweeter love I knew I'd never find But then the autumn leaves...
