

Ambition

Fey

I understand we need to have our own space too many days I need to talk and you're not there when you are here your mind is always somewhere else calculating to satisfy yourself I need you to feel our love.

I'm busy with affection and I'm fighting with my heart, can't get over you busy with affection cause you're busy with ambition and you're running all alone, what is wrong with you? busy with ambition.

You're always planning for the future when you look back maybe you will regret it live for the present time for love is what we need don't pass it up, there's not much opportunity let us enjoy our lives

I'm busy with affection and I'm fighting with my heart, can't get over you busy with affection cause you're busy with ambition and you're running all alone, what is wrong with you? busy with ambition.
