

Perfect War

FGFC820

I find you here on judgement day
A trail of tears upon your face
Your armor cold, your time run out
To make believe, to ease your doubt

Were you strong inside yourself,
Or did you cry for someone else?
Set free your fear, it's a perfect day
The sun has come to wash your pain away

When the bells start ringing
And you've reached the end
What did you stand for?
What would you die for?
Will you die for the perfect war?

The angels singing
In the skies again
What did you live for?
What would you die for?
Will you die in the perfect war?

So live your life, you've only one
Your thoughts and deeds can't be undone
Set free your fear, it's a perfect day
The sun has come to wash your pain away
