

No Lullaby

Fiddler's Green

You walk in the streets of your town
A life on a razor-edge
Does somebody care here at all?
In the cold light of day you perceive
You're drinking your life away
Will anyone rescue your soul?

Cause the girls won't sing you a lullaby
And the girls won't give you a smile
You're left in the cold and you know there's nobody waiting now
And no one will kiss you goodbye

You're too much of a coward to see
Theat nobody's loving you
Where is a way back to light?
No one sheds tears over you
You're close to insanity
Can somebody wave down your fight?

Cause the girls won't sing you a lullaby
And the girls won't give you a smile
You're left in the cold and you know there's nobody waiting now
And no one will kiss you goodbye

Cause the girls won't sing you a lullaby
And the girls won't give you a smile
You're left in the cold and you know there's nobody waiting now
And no one will kiss you goodbye

Cause the girls won't sing you a lullaby
And the girls won't give you a smile
You're left in the cold and you know there's nobody waiting now
And no one will kiss you goodbye
