

Submission

Fields of the Nephilim

It moves between us
for one moment
like opium and your heart we've remedies from the ancient gods to heal the morals of our shadow devil come to me open up the door lead me ciahra to the centre of it all she opened and cried
with arms outstretched
lay down next to me
come take what's left
she cried holding me
someone's inside too cruel to suffer for what she wants
condensation on the windows peering back at myself
through the webs we have weaved till this radiant morning somewhere else oh where have I been where have I been her lips were hard
my heaven is cold let's loose her whose inside me
let's use her
for what she wants
take her loosen up
loose enough