

When It's All Said And Done

Figure Four

Born into this life.
Where's my direction.
Given the freedom to make these choices for myself.
I face deception and I face temptation.
I'll face theses things every single day
Until the time I leave this world behind.
I don't know the time I will go and it's not for me decide.
The things I thought never would happen to me.
I just realize that it's not in my hands.
Second chances I can't expect and I won't expect.
When it's all said and done I will live.
I could die tomorrow so now I'll live for today.
I'll try to live my live so that I'll never wish I had a second chance.
