Finger Eleven

I gave it all i gave it up then i took it in and got enough but i try to cancel out whatever i can't laugh about

So what does that say there can't be anyway i've done my worst and no one knows

One more day to fool them all one more day to drop the ball one more day to fade away

Fill a head with sand just to make it better i had the chance to beat it in but i never i should have taken it right then

One more day to fool them all one more day to drop the ball one more day to fade away

Now you've been taken you won't stop shaking embrace every minute you're all that's left in it it's not happening some other day you'll fool them all one more day to drop the ball one more day to fade away
