

Hush Now

Fink

Thought that i could bargain barter for your love but you know it's such a sin, if you play the game of love to win in play it to win

tell me where's my rightful place, was it there in your sweet face? what mamma said to me was true - you are what you love not what loves you

something deep inside of me died when i found out all of your lies gotta give myself some kinda meaning, gotta get me some healing don't cheat yourself out of love, coz you know that's a bigger sin to never know such sweetness, never know completeness but that's where i've been

where's my rightful place, was it there in your sweet face
gotta get me some healing
