

See It All

Fink

Last time that I saw you it was dark
I remember cause I think you're pretty
You shine brighter baby, in my heart than all the bright lights in this New York City
All the bright lights in New York

Last time that I saw you it was dark
I remember that you don't believe me
Take my seat and wait for it to start
Let the lies fade out beneath me
All the bright lights in New York

I see it all, I see it all
I see this postcard on the wall
I see it all

One last look into your eyes
The day it only just begun, yeah
With a gentle bruising at the skies
By the sun, yeah, by the sun

I see it all, I see it all
I see this postcard on the wall
I see it all

One step further, one step more
One day closer than before
To the bright lights in New York
Bright lights in New York
Bright lights in New York
