What's Wrong

Brother please don't turn your back on me I was once just like you but I've fallen through the cracks of society Why can't anyone just lend a hand Doesn't anybody care, doesn't someone understand We should be ashamed because we lay the blame Not on ourselves but on this day and age

What's wrong with everybody Why can't anybody get along Well I think we've got a problem We've got to help each other out or we'll never figure out What's wrong with everybody

Five o'clock another traffic jam All lanes merge to one and it seems like no one gives a damn Why can't we just let each other in But we cut each other off and we just keep on driving

We should be ashamed because we lay the blame Not on ourselves but on this day and age

What's wrong with everybody Why can't anybody get along Well I think we've got a problem We've got to help each other out or we'll never figure out What's wrong with everybody

Why can't everyone just live in peace Well we've got to pull together and put an end to this insanity Why can't everyone just lend a hand Doesn't anybody care, doesn't someone give a damn
