Waiting Still

I have never known A lover of my own So many times I've tried and yet love eludes me Where have I gone wrong, it's the same old song Wasting time away, I'm so tired of brooding

I'm here, I'm here waiting for you Seems like always waiting for you Who are you that never shows Keeper of my very soul I've cried a trial of many tears Mourning the journey through the years No once can tell just how I feel Once again I'm waiting still

Where's the secret hid So many others find So many broken dreams yet I'm still dreaming I'll keep searching on Until I find the one Somewhere out there is a love That needs me

I've been searching for so long Waiting for my soul one

I'm here, I'm here waiting for you Seems like always waiting for you I'm here!
