

Like Ships In The Night

Fireworks

Didn't need drugs to teach me not to care
My feet were already downers to a world up in the air
I'm on the outside and I'm choosing not to look in

I never fell too fast
My friends and I just like being those you see at night
Walking through graveyards like zombies
I want to soak in the moonlight

It's always been the common life
That always makes it self seem right
But I'll pass it like

What matters most is how well you can
Walk through the war that's inside of your head
I can't stop this war inside my head

Trying to find myself
I can't give up on everything I've ever known before
But if I could write a letter to the person I once was
The return address would be
"I miss you, but I don't want to know you anymore"

Don't know you anymore

It's always been the common life
That always makes it self seem right
But I'll pass it like

What matters most is how well you can
Walk through the war that's inside of your head
I can't stop this war inside my head
In my head
In my head

I'll pass it like ships in the night

I won't let this world make my life an appointment
Time's just a measurement
I won't let this world make my life
Make my life

War inside your head
Walk through war inside your head
Walk through war

What matters most is how well you can

What matters most is how well you can
Walk through the war that's inside of your head
I can't stop this war

What matters most is how well you can
Walk through the war that's inside of your head
