

Cross Oceans

First Aid Kit

There's something about you
That I'm never going to find out
I want to live that life again
I want to live that life again

The way that you say things
So they sound so right
I want to cross oceans
I want to cross oceans

But everything I say
I keep in the wrong side of my mouth
And when the words come out
They don't sound anything like
I imagined
'cause I imagined

It feels like I am
Waiting for the rain
I want to live that life again
I want to live that life again

Or an endless secret
Parade of change
I want to cross oceans
I want to cross oceans

Stare at the ground
A second too long then it's gone
And everything I can see
Looks nothing like
I imagined, 'cause I imagined

I want to cross oceans
I want to cross oceans
I want to cross oceans
I want to cross oceans
I want to cross oceans
I want to cross oceans
