Lately I've been thinking about the past How there is no holding back No point in wasting sorrow On things that won't be here tomorrow

But you and I well we don't need to speak It's the secret that we keep Out of view and out of sight Just say when and we'll say goodnight

Tell me it's okay
To live life this way
Sometimes I want you to stay
I know it's a shame
Shame
Shame

Now I have spent so much of my time Going out of my mind Trying so hard to be of use But what you cannot gain you lose

In LA, the sun's almost too bright
I cannot get it right
The emptiness I feel
And now none of it seems real

So maybe it's alright

If I just spend the night

Sometimes I just can't bear to walk away

I know it's a shame

Shame

Shame

Who have I become Who will I be Come tomorrow

Tell me it's okay
If I ask you to stay
Sometimes the night cuts through me like a knife
I know it's a shame
I know it's a shame
I know it's a shame

Shame Shame Shame
