

Whoah
Woah-oah

I'm not your ordinary girl
When I first came into this world
I was born, without a heart, in the cold, in the dark
Don't think there's a right solution
People like me are the pollution.
Mix the dirty with the clean
Lost my way in the between

Maybe I am little too attentive
And I know you think I'm a manic-depressive
No, there's nothing that I don't regret,
So listen up close so you don't forget.

I take Novocaine, it runs through my veins
I don't know how to love or how to feel
When the dawn turns black, we will take care
We will feel nothing (wouldn't change anything)

So fill me up on your prescription
Can you hear me you never listen
Try so hard to play the part
In the skies, from the star
There's no logic in your lesson
Thoughts are skewed through my perception
Blur the lines a millions times,
So now I made it out alive

Maybe I am little too attentive
And I know you think I'm a manic-depressive
No, there's nothing that I don't regret,
So listen up close so you don't forget.

I take Novocaine, it runs through my veins
I don't know how to love or how to feel
When the dawn turns black, we will take care
I will feel nothing (wouldn't change anything)
Woah, wouldn't change anything
Woah, wouldn't change anything
Wouldn't change anything

I take Novocaine, it runs through my veins
I don't know how to love or how to feel

I take Novocaine, it runs through my veins
I don't know how to love or how to feel
When the dawn turns black, we will take care
I will feel nothing (wouldn't change anything)
