Fit For Rivals

Prove to me you're just like them so I know I'm right again
You've changed throughout the years, but yet I remained here
It's such a shame to see you go it's for the best I know

Whoa, what's your problem?
Things, can't get any worse (can't get any worse)
Nothing you can coerce (nothing you can do now)
Now except your fate, woah

Give me, give me one good reason
To believe in you again, in you again

And when you try to come back and say you're sorry again
We'll turn our backs and forget that you ever came
So here's our farewell the pressure is all off of us now

Whoa, what's your problem?
Things, can't get any worse (can't get any worse)
Nothing you can coerce (nothing you can do now)
Now except your fate, woah

Give me, give me one good reason
To believe in you again, in you again
Give me, give me one good reason
To believe in you again, in you again

Give me, give me one good reason
To believe in you again, in you again
Give me, give me one good reason
To believe in you again, in you again

Give me, give me one good reason
To believe in you again, in you again
Give me, give me one good reason
To believe in you again, in you again
