

Breakin' the Chains of Love

Fitz and the Tantrums

I've been trying, to get you
To see things all my way
For the days that since you've left me
And I know that you probably keep away

I said
Oh what a lovely day
Breaking the chains of love
I'm hoping that you won't find a new love
Cause I know baby you're mine

Can't you see that you're mine
Oh, can't you see, can't you see that you're mine

You been lying and cheating
Fooling around, messing around all of the time
No way I'm gonna find you
You're making me god damn pay

I said
Oh what a lovely day
Breaking the chains of love
I'm hoping that you won't find a new love
Cause I know baby you're mine

I've been trying, to forget you
The pictures, they don't fade
For the days that since you've left me
And I know that these tears won't wipe away

I said
Oh what a lovely day
Breaking the chains of love
I'm hoping that you won't find a new love
Cause I know baby you're mine

Can't you see that you're mine
Oh, can't you see, can't you see that you're mine
Oh baby I know that you're mine
Can't you see that you're mine
Oh, can't you see, can't you see that you're mine
