

Fadeback

Fitz and the Tantrums

I just want you to fade back into me
I just need you to fade back

Static room, me and you
I feel the frequency shift
You play along when we kiss
But I can read your lips, woah

It just feels like your heart ain't, your heart ain't in it
Wish that I could just stop the universe from spinning

I just want you to fade back into me
I just need you to fade back
Just fade back into me
I just want you to fade back into me
I just need you to fade back
Just fade back into me
Just fade back into me

Reckless heart, miles apart
The axis turns and it flips
Magnetic pulse, lovely ghost
Who I go down with this ship (woah)

It just feels like your heart ain't, your heart ain't in it
Wish that I could just stop the universe from spinning

I just want you to fade back into me
I just need you to fade back
Just fade back into me
I just want you to fade back into me
I just need you to fade back
Just fade back into me

Just fade back into me
Just fade back into me
Just fade back into me

Yeah, we're coming to the borderline
You pull away, but I, I, I just can't stop it
Trying my best to feed, feed your soul
But the story's told, and I just can't stop it

It just feels like your heart ain't, your heart ain't in it
Wish that I could just stop the universe from spinning

I just want you to fade back into me
I just need you to fade back
Just fade back into me
I just want you to fade back into me
I just need you to fade back
Just fade back into me

Just fade back into me
Just fade back into me
Just fade back into me
Just fade back into me

Just fade back into me
