

I Woke up got my lazy ass out of bed
I Watered all the rocks growing in my head
I Had a thought and fell asleep on you

There I was somewhere West of Tomorrow Land
Flying through the stars just like Peter Pan
I said, damn this looks too good to be true

There she goes my heart again, would you mind rolling over
I can feel it in the air, something's coming down
I don't know and I don't care that it's a small world

It's a nice day if you wake up in Disneyland
It's a nice day when you wake up in Disneyland

In my dream everybody's got a little house
A dog, a bank account managed by Mickey Mouse
And the only thing we fight about is the Lakers

In my dream all the pirates down in Neverland
Never get the Hook, they just get a hand
While the crocs sing Superman till we just can't take it

There she goes, my heart again, do you mind rolling over
I can feel it in the air, something's coming down
I don't know and I don't care if it's a small world

It's a nice day when you wake up in Disneyland
It's a nice day if you wake up in Disneyland

We can fly away

I Woke up got my lazy ass out of bed
I Watered all the rocks growing in my head
I Had a thought and I looked up to see

The sign read the park she's closed today
E-tickets don't work here no more anyway
Where every day's a magic day to be free You see

It's a nice day when you wake up in Disneyland
It's a nice day should you wake up in Disneyland
It's your L.U.C.K.Y. day should you wake up in Disneyland
It's a nice day should you wake up in Disneyland
