

Hope

Five For Fighting

When life's got you down and you can't make a sound Cause love has forsaken you When you burning on fire but have no desire To put out the flames in

You gotta have hope You gotta have something there's always a reason to break Hope Cause nothing less
Will save the day

When you are in pain then step of the train Nobody's waiting for you
You can knock down each door of all metaphors Or embrace the cold hard truth

But you gotta have hope
You gotta have something
there's always a reason to break Hope
Cause nothing less
Will save the day

I see that look in your eyes
I've seen it before Each to our own disguise
If you need me babe you're not alone, no, no

When life's got you down and
cause despair has stolen your song but raise up your fist and into the abyss Scream, "Coward, get of my lawn"

Hope
Something
there's always a reason to break Hope Cause nothing less will save the day
