Road To Heaven

Five For Fighting

Sometimes I think about silly things It's easy to do if you have the time Often happens when I'm falling off to sleep After a second glass of wine

The clock is usually running out Down by one or could be tied I'm fading back Winding up The championship on the line...but...

What if there was a road to heaven That's what came to me today Would there be Traffic jams with diamond lanes Potholes filled up with rain Would there be Tolls still left to pay

If there was a road to heaven Made of gold or made out of clay Would the Angels wave me up the hill Or in my mirror just fade away

I've never been the kind a man who hits his knees
Got no answers for big questions
I don't know...
Maybe tomorrow lightning will hit me on the head
And we can find out if we're just a joke

Jesus I'm told can build a bridge Finer than any other man There's a certain peace to an country road With a wheel in your hand

If there was a road to heaven Would there be laws I must obey If I drove my mustang 85 Late one night turned out the lights Would the stars still light the way

If there was a road to heaven Made of Gold or Made of Clay Would the Angels lead me up the hill Or in my mirror just fade away

Night turns morning The old man should be snoring I got to get some sleep before I'm awake

Up with the monkeys I sure love the monkeys But This job ain't all cookies and cake

Sometimes I think about silly things It's easy to do if you got the wine In The Eagle we're landing I'm the President Or a foreign king With a harem from Encino to Brunei

But if there was a road to heaven It'd be one long and crazy ride... If there was a road to heaven babe That's a road that I'd like to find.
