

Against A Sea Of Troubles

Five Iron Frenzy

To only end the heartache to shed this mortal coil Face pressed to the earth
I'm frozen to the soil
My only thought
with my last breath
To suffer slings and arrows adrift and lost it seems or take f light with the sparrows the ghost that haunts our dreams?

Drained of all resolve my spirit pours from me
The fire's growing cold please do not forget me

One lost night against a sea of troubles
I could not hear You through the thunder's peal

My only hope is that You cannot, not- be real My only thought
pray for me now

My only thought
with my last breath
